SECTION 2: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQS)

Academic Policies

Q: What is the minimum attendance requirement to sit for final exams? A: Students must maintain a minimum of 75% attendance in every individual course. If a student's attendance falls below 75% but remains above 65%, they may request a medical exemption by providing a valid doctor's note to the Head of Department (HOD) at least one week before finals. Anything below 65% results in automatic failure of the course.

Q: What are the minimum credit requirements to register for 7th-semester professional electives? A: To register for 7th-semester electives, you must have completed a minimum of 85 credits by the end of your 5th semester. Additionally, you cannot have any active backlogs (failed courses) from your 1st or 2nd semesters.

Q: What happens if I have an 82-credit shortfall for my 7th-semester electives?

A: If you are slightly short of the 85-credit requirement (e.g., you have 82 credits), you can file an appeal with your HOD using Form-11B. Approval for this shortfall exception is entirely at the HOD's discretion.

Examinations and Grading

Q: How do I apply for a makeup examination if I am sick? A: If you miss a mid-term or final exam due to a severe medical emergency, you must submit Form-4B to the Examination Office within 3 days (72 hours) of the missed exam. You must attach valid medical proof. The makeup exam will be scheduled within two weeks of the original exam date.

Q: Can I check my grades online? A: Yes, official semester grades are published on the Student Information System (SIS) portal exactly 14 days after the final exam period concludes.

Financial and Miscellaneous

Q: What is the penalty for losing a physical student ID card? A: A lost student ID card must be reported to Campus Security immediately. A replacement card costs $15 and takes 48 hours to print. You must bring a government-issued photo ID to the Registrar's Office to collect your new ID card.

Q: Are freshmen allowed to park cars on campus? A: No, first-year (freshman) undergraduate students are strictly prohibited from purchasing campus parking permits or bringing vehicles to the university dormitories. This policy helps reduce campus congestion.
